

Introducing Heather O'Sullivan, ANP-C

Board of Directors

Heather O'Sullivan is a nurse practitioner with over two decades of professional experience in senior care. She brings to the South Cove Manor Board of Directors a distinctive combination of direct clinical experience as a certified geriatric nurse practitioner and senior clinical leadership experience gained at the nation's leading at-risk post-acute care organizations, health plans, and home healthcare organizations.

In her current position as Chief Clinical Innovation Officer for Kindred at Home, Heather's mission is to improve care outcomes, patient satisfaction, and delivery of value-based care while balancing the ever-increasing demands of fiscal soundness and operational efficiency.

Heather earned a Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Medical University of South Carolina, and a Master of Science from Simmons College. She is certified by the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners as a Gerontological Nurse Practitioner, and is also a Massachusetts Board Certified Advanced Practice Nurse. Heather has held numerous professional association posts and currently serves as a Corporate Board Advisor for the American Organization of Nursing Leadership, and is a member of the Healthcare Businesswomen's Association.

Married and a resident of Bolton, MA, Heather has two children, one a nursing student, and one in high school. In addition to her nursing career and her family, Heather is passionate about outdoor activities, especially anything taking place near the ocean.
